Drives People Out of Business by Raising Rent; Opposes Bond Issue; Can't Even Vote Here

B. T. Daniel of Law Office, Cal-and Mason, Cal and Mason, and Leahy, was the man in mid-July to the Tulsa City Improvement Board to tell the Board his opinion: business is not welcome to the boards of city improvement because the members turn out at a meeting at which business men are present.

Business men, he said, were a very poor class, and the members of his firm, he said, had no time to attend the meetings of the city improvement board.

The tenant was paying $150 a month for his office, the tenant told the board, and was asked if the rental would be raised. He said it would be raised to $175.

Mr. Daniel stated that he had been asked to advise the board from among the business men to whom he had spoken, and he advised the board to raise the rent.

But Mr. Daniel has raised the rent of at least a dozen of his tenants. And one of his newest tenants is asked in this connection: "What should have been done?"

Mr. Daniel stated he had been

Mr. Daniel stated he had been asked to advise the board from

board to raise the rent.

This may be a reasonable request to a wise man who is interested in the bond issue because he doesn't care to bear his burden. He was seen Wednesday wearing a path between the Daniel building and the Holland building. His high rents are exorbitant but his tenants are powerless.
This is the kind of a man who can possibly be induced to do something but that he will be forced to do double his rents again if the bonds pass. He is one of the cheap kingpins due for a knocking down today.
